News From Fr. Fabian

It was a week to be grateful in our parish with the opening of the new school hall at St. Francis de Sales, Lynbrook by His Grace Archbishop Peter Comensoli. "To be the light of the world, as Jesus asks of us, and to be that light for others is a very beautiful thing", the Archbishop said in his homily. "How can your light shine for those around you?"

I would like to second the message from our youth and join in thanking the parishioners of St. Kevin's for their generous contributions towards Fr. Anil's farewell last weekend. Your thoughtfulness and support of our parish is a credit to our community.

Thank you to the anonymous donor of $2440 towards the parish. Your contribution will be used towards the renovation of the adoration chapel in due course.

The work to create three separate vesting areas for the altar servers will commence on Monday and I will keep you informed of the progress.

All masses offered for remembrance/death anniversaries in November will be recorded in the new Book of Remembrance. The Book will be processed during the offertory and placed at the altar, for all weekend masses in November.

News from Deacon Graeme

Dear friends, I am letting you know that I will be away from our parish for the next 4 weeks. I will be taking some well-earned leave, given I haven't had any since June 2022. As an aside, I thought I'd let you know that I have been appointed as Director of Catholic Identity at Padua College, Mornington. This means that I am responsible for both the Liturgical life of the College, as well as the Religious Education curriculum from Year 7 – 12. Please remember me in your thoughts and prayers as I'll need them! It will be a challenge, but I believe I can make some changes in the faith direction of the school. I'll be back with you all on Wednesday 8 November. Take care and stay safe. Much love to you all, Deacon Graeme.

Catholic Mission Sunday 22nd October 2023

In the smallest villages around the world ... even there, you will find local missionaries who live to serve their communities. Missionaries who, led by the Holy Spirit, walk with those in most need. Missionaries like Sr Carolina. Next week Catholic Mission will offer you the opportunity to partner with Sr Carolina and the Salesian Sisters in Venilale, Timor-Leste, where your gift can help continue a life-saving program to help address the health and well-being of this community. We hope you will take next week's opportunity to make an incredible impact for those in need.

The Precepts of the Church — Part IV

This week, we shall take a detailed look at the fifth precept of the Church.

5. You shall observe the prescribed days of fasting and abstinence

Fasting is a form of self-denial that is commended to us by the Church — based on the example Jesus gives us when he fasts for 40 days and then is tempted by the devil, whom he vanquishes on our behalf — as a means of penance, that we may mortify our passions and satisfy for our sins.

“Mortify our passions” — keep our bodies under control, do bodily penance. Remember it is our bodies that generally lead us into sin; so, if we punish the body by fasting and mortification, we atone for the sin, and thus God wipes out a part of the temporal punishment due to it.

The Catechism has this to say:

“1434 The interior penance of the Christian can be expressed in many and various ways. Scripture and the Fathers insist above all on three forms, fasting, prayer, and almsgiving, which express conversion in relation to oneself, to God, and to others. Alongside the radical purification brought about by Baptism or martyrdom they cite as means of obtaining forgiveness of sins: effort at reconciliation with one’s neighbour, tears of repentance, concern for the salvation of one’s neighbour, the intercession of the saints, and the practice of charity, ‘which covers a multitude of sins.’”

Days of abstinence are days on which we are forbidden to eat flesh meat but are allowed the usual amount of food.

The Church commands us to abstain, from flesh meat on Ash Wednesday and the Fridays of Lent and to abstain from flesh meat or do some other chosen penance on the other Fridays of the year in honour of the day on which Our Saviour died.

Fast days are days on which we are allowed just one full meal.

According to the traditional Catholic method of fasting, one may eat one full meal each day with meat included, plus two smaller meatless meals, both of which together do not equal the one full meal. No eating between meals is allowed, although drinking beverages such as coffee and tea are allowed and are not considered to break the fast. (Milk, juice, and soft drinks are also considered not to break the fast, although they are in fact foods and mitigate the effects of the fast and work contrary to its intent because they satisfy one’s hunger to some extent, since they have food value.)

They, therefore, who follow the above regulations obey the Catholic method of fasting. Today the prescribed days of fast for the whole Church are Ash Wednesday and Good Friday (these are also days of abstinence). However, the Church today says that the meaning of the law of fasting during Lent remains, although the extent of the obligation has been changed. In other words, Lent remains as a season of penance in the Church, but how it is to be observed is greatly up to the individual, though no one may think himself excused from all penance whatsoever, and those who are in the fasting age group should still practice the Church’s form of fasting, since fasting is a primary and very efficacious form of penance.

Those who, for sufficient reasons, are excused from the obligation of fasting, are not on that account freed from the law of abstinence, for all who have reached their 14th birthday are bound to abstain from flesh meat on days when it is forbidden — Ash Wednesday and the Fridays of Lent.

The following persons are excused from fasting:

1. Those who are not yet 18 or who have begun their 60th year (from their 59th birthday onward);
2. Those whose infirmity, condition, or occupation renders it impossible or dangerous for them to fast.

If you think you should be excused from fasting or abstaining, state your reasons to your confessor and ask his advice. On a fast day, therefore, you have to look both to the quantity and the kind of food, while on a day of abstinence — as the Fridays in Lent other than Good Friday — you have to look only to the kind.

28th Sunday in Ordinary Time – Year A

1st Reading – Isaiah 25:6-10

On this mountain, the Lord of hosts will prepare for all peoples a banquet of rich food, a banquet of fine wines, of food rich and juicy, of fine strained wines. On this mountain he will remove the mourning veil covering all peoples, and the shroud enwrapping all nations, he will destroy Death for ever.

The Lord will wipe away the tears from every cheek; he will take away his people's shame everywhere on earth, for the Lord has said so. That day, it will be said: See, this is our God in whom we hoped for salvation; the Lord is the one in whom we hoped. We exult and we rejoice that he has saved us; for the hand of the Lord rests on this mountain.

The word of the Lord.

Thanks be to God.

Responsorial Psalm - Psalm 22(23)

Res: I shall live in the house of the Lord all the days of my life.

The Lord is my shepherd;
there is nothing I shall want.
Fresh and green are the pastures
where he gives me repose.
Near restful waters he leads me,
to revive my drooping spirit.

Res

He guides me along the right path;
he is true to his name.
If I should walk in the valley of darkness
no evil would I fear.
You are there with your crook and your staff;
with these you give me comfort.

Res

You have prepared a banquet for me in the sight of my foes.
My head you have anointed with oil;
my cup is overflowing.

Res

Surely goodness and kindness shall follow me
all the days of my life.
In the Lord's own house shall I dwell for ever and ever.

Res

2nd Reading – Philippians 4:12-14,19-20

I know how to be poor and I know how to be rich too. I have been through my initiation and now I am ready for anything anywhere: full stomach or empty stomach, poverty or plenty. There is nothing I cannot master with the help of the One who gives me strength. All the same, it was good of you to share with me in my hardships. In return my God will fulfil all your needs, in Christ Jesus, as lavishly as only God can. Glory to God, our Father, for ever and ever. Amen.

The word of the Lord.

Thanks be to God.

Gospel Acclamation

Alleluia, alleluia!

May the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ enlighten the eyes of our heart that we might see how great is the hope to which we are called.

Alleluia!

Gospel – Matthew 22:1-14

Jesus began to speak to the chief priests and elders of the people in parables: 'The kingdom of heaven may be compared to a king who gave a feast for his son's wedding. He sent his servants to call those who had been invited, but they would not come. Next he sent some more servants. "Tell those who have been invited" he said "that I have my banquet all prepared, my oxen and fattened cattle have been slaughtered, everything is ready. Come to the wedding." But they were not interested: one went off to his farm, another to his business, and the rest seized his servants, maltreated them and killed them. The king was furious. He despatched his troops, destroyed those murderers and burnt their town.

Then he said to his servants, "The wedding is ready; but as those who were invited proved to be unworthy, go to the crossroads in the town and invite everyone you can find to the wedding." So these servants went out on to the roads and collected together everyone they could find, bad and good alike; and the wedding hall was filled with guests. When the king came in to look at the guests he noticed one man who was not wearing a wedding garment, and said to him, "How did you get in here, my friend, without a wedding garment?" And the man was silent. Then the king said to the attendants, "Bind him hand and foot and throw him out into the dark, where there will be weeping and grinding of teeth." For many are called, but few are chosen.'

The Gospel of the Lord.

Praise to you, Lord Jesus Christ.
