Catholic Mission

There will be a third collection this weekend in aid of Catholic Mission. This week, you're invited to partner with the Church in Mongolia to help deliver essential services to people who need it most. Lack of access and social stigma mean that some of the most vulnerable people are not getting the support they require. You can support this work by using the appeal envelope, going online at catholicmission.org.au/mongolia, or scanning the QR code. Your gift will also assist many other Church programs around the world.

"Bless these gifts ... which we offer you first of all for your holy catholic Church." so says the priest when he recites the first Eucharistic Prayer. "And [bless] all those who, holding to the truth, hand on the catholic and apostolic faith."

"Catholic" is what we have called our Church since the first generation of Christianity. St Ignatius of Antioch used the phrase in AD 107, and so did many more authors in his century and the next. The word catholic means "universal", a term that well describes the scope of our concerns during the Mass, and especially during the Eucharistic Prayer.

The Church is catholic because Christ is present in her, wherever she may be. As St Ignatius wrote: "Where there is Jesus Christ, there is the Catholic Church." The Catholic Church is also a church for all peoples in all places and at all times. It continues to teach all that Christ taught.

"Catholic" denotes not a sect or a denomination, but a church as big as the world and as vast as time. That's why we offer such a range of petitions along with the Lord's body and blood during the Eucharistic Prayer.

The Eucharist is the prayer of the whole Church. We thank God the Father for his mercy in redeeming the world. We thank him especially for sending the Son into the world to be one of us. That is why, in the course of this long prayer, we sketch out the history of God's saving acts.

'Catholic' denotes not a sect or a denomination, but a church as big as the world and as vast as time.

We also raise our prayer in intercession for the whole world. There is a universal, catholic quality to the petitions of the Eucharistic Prayer.

We seek the fulfillment of the longings, expectations and needs of the whole Church and the whole universe. St Paul described the matter well: "We know that all creation is groaning in labour pains even till now" (Romans 8:22).

We feel helpless in the face of so much need, but the Holy Spirit "comes to the aid of our weakness, for we do not know how to pray as we ought, but the Spirit itself intercedes with inexpressible groanings" (Romans 8:26).

The Church is catholic because Christ is present in her, wherever she may be.

So we pray for the Church "spread throughout the world". We pray for mercy, salvation. We pray for the living and the dead. We pray for "the whole order of bishops, all the clergy, those who make this offering, those gathered here before you, your entire people, and all who seek you with a sincere heart".

We pray that "the whole of creation" may be "freed from the corruption of sin and death" and so may glorify God.

The Mass is the universal prayer. St Justin Martyr wrote that, by his time, AD 150, the Mass was offered by Christians of every race and nation in the known world. Christianity was hardly more than a century old, and the Mass was already catholic. It was already offered wherever people could go to tell the Good News.

It still is. We are Catholic because our love is universal. Our care is universal as well. Catholics are never narrow in their prayer. Though we arrive at Mass with all our private hopes and worries, we join them with the intentions of the other people at Mass, with the whole world, and with Christ; and in Christ we make our intercession with the Father.

From The Mass by Cardinal Donald Wuerl and Mike Aquilina

1st Reading –Isaiah 53:10-11

The Lord has been pleased to crush his servant with suffering. If he offers his life in atonement, he shall see his heirs, he shall have a long life and through him what the Lord wishes will be done. His soul's anguish over, he shall see the light and be content. By his sufferings shall my servant justify many, taking their faults on himself.

The word of the Lord.

Thanks be to God.

Responsorial Psalm - 32(33):4-5,18-20,22

Lord, let your mercy be on us, as we place our trust in you.

The word of the Lord is faithful and all his works to be trusted. The Lord loves justice and right
and fills the earth with his love.

Lord, let your mercy be on us, as we place our trust in you.

The Lord looks on those who revere him,
on those who hope in his love, to rescue their souls from death,
to keep them alive in famine.

Lord, let your mercy be on us, as we place our trust in you.

Our soul is waiting for the Lord.

The Lord is our help and our shield.
May your love be upon us, O Lord,
as we place all our hope in you.

2nd Reading –Hebrews 4:14-16

Since in Jesus, the Son of God, we have the supreme high priest who has gone through to the highest heaven, we must never let go of the faith that we have professed. For it is not as if we had a high priest who was incapable of feeling our weaknesses with us; but we have one who has been tempted in every way that we are, though he is without sin. Let us be confident, then, in approaching the throne of grace, that we shall have mercy from him and find grace when we are in need of help.

The word of the Lord.

Thanks be to God.

Gospel Acclamation

Alleluia, alleluia!

The Son of Man came to serve and to give his life as a ransom for all.

Alleluia!

Gospel –Mark 10:35-45

James and John, the sons of Zebedee, approached Jesus. 'Master,' they said to him 'we want you to do us a favour.' He said to them, 'What is it you want me to do for you?' They said to him, 'Allow us to sit one at your right hand and the other at your left in your glory.' 'You do not know what you are asking' Jesus said to them. 'Can you drink the cup that I must drink, or be baptised with the baptism with which I must be baptised?' They replied, 'We can.' Jesus said to them, 'The cup that I must drink you shall drink, and with the baptism with which I must be baptised you shall be baptised, but as for seats at my right hand or my left, these are not mine to grant; they belong to those to whom they have been allotted.'

When the other ten heard this they began to feel indignant with James and John, so Jesus called them to him and said to them, 'You know that among the pagans their so-called rulers lord it over them, and their great men make their authority felt. This is not to happen among you. No; anyone who wants to become great among you must be your servant, and anyone who wants to be first among you must be slave to all. For the Son of Man himself did not come to be served but to serve, and to give his life as a ransom for many.'

The Gospel of the Lord.

Praise to you, Lord Jesus Christ.
