Fruits of the Holy Spirit – Part III

SELF-CONTROL

In his encyclical letter Spe Salvi, Pope Benedict XVI refers to the fact that the ancient pagan world lacked any hope of a meaningful future. He points to 1 Thessalonians 4:13 where Saint Paul makes reference to this fact in emphasizing the Christian basis for hope.

Now, in a similar way, Paul's preaching also made use of another fact of the pagan world: its preoccupation with self-indulgence. Thus we read in Acts that when Paul spoke to the Roman governor Felix about faith in Christ Jesus, Paul focused on "righteousness and self-restraint and the coming judgment" (Acts 24:25).

Of these three concepts, we might expect to hear about righteousness and the coming judgment because they are core concepts in the Gospels. But self-restraint—or self-control—seems to be a Pauline reflection on the actual world around him.

In 1 Corinthians 9:25, Paul plays on this idea of self-restraint by remarking that, if athletes can exercise discipline—or self-restraint—in order to achieve something that is purely frivolous, Christians should be able to exercise discipline to achieve something of the highest and most meaningful value.

IF YOUR PRAYER is truly effective, therefore, you should be led into a desire to discipline and restrain your own self-satisfaction for the sake of the highest desire of all: to be filled with all the fullness of God (Ephesians 3:19).

Personal Meditation: How often do you let your own personal desires take control of your life? Are you overweight? Are you addicted to cigarettes or alcohol or drugs or erotic pleasure or video games or . . .? You may have prayers on your lips, but where is your true desire?

IN BRIEF

The twelve fruits of the Holy Spirit are Charity, Joy, Peace, Patience, Benignity, Goodness, Long-suffering, Mildness, Faith, Modesty, Continency, and Chastity. These are called fruits of the Holy Spirit because they grow in our souls out of the seven gifts of the Holy Spirit.

Twelve Fruits of the Holy Spirit

- 1. Charity - Cause us to perform our actions out of love for God
- 2. Joy - Keeps us happily aware of God's infinite goodness
- 3. Peace - Results from joy and renders us tranquil
- 4. Patience - Resigns us to endure the disagreeable circumstance of life and the suffering of deaths
- 5. Goodness - Inclines us to wish to do good to everyone without distinction
- 6. Benignity - Results from goodness; it is goodness in words and actions
- 7. Long Suffering - Preserves patience over a long period of time, even though no encouragement is to be seen
- 8. Mildness - Restrain our angers
- 9. Faith - Makes one faithful and upright in dealing with others
- 10. Modesty - Produces moderation in external actions
- 11. Continence - Represses the passion
- 12. Chastity - Helps one guard his/her senses so that they will not cause him/her to sin; it helps one regard his/her own body and those of others as temple of the Holy Spirit

First Reading - Jeremiah 38:4-6,8-10

The king's leading men spoke to the king. 'Let Jeremiah be put to death: he is unquestionably disheartening the remaining soldiers in the city, and all the people too, by talking like this. The fellow does not have the welfare of this people at heart so much as its ruin.' 'He is in your hands as you know,' King Zedekiah answered 'for the king is powerless against you.' So they took Jeremiah and threw him into the well of Prince Malchiah in the Court of the Guard, letting him down with ropes. There was no water in the well, only mud, and into the mud Jeremiah sank.

Ebed-melech came out from the palace and spoke to the king. 'My lord king,' he said 'these men have done a wicked thing by treating the prophet Jeremiah like this: they have thrown him into the well, where he will die.' At this the king gave Ebed-melech the Cushite the following order: 'Take three men with you from here and pull the prophet Jeremiah out of the well before he dies.'

Responsorial Psalm - 39(40):2-4,18

Lord, come to my aid!

I waited, I waited for the Lord
and he stooped down to me;
he heard my cry.

Lord, come to my aid!

He drew me from the deadly pit,
from the miry clay.

He set my feet upon a rock
and made my footsteps firm.

Lord, come to my aid!

He put a new song into my mouth,
praise of our God.

Many shall see and fear
and shall trust in the Lord.

Lord, come to my aid!

As for me, wretched and poor,
the Lord thinks of me.
You are my rescuer, my help,
O God, do not delay.
Lord, come to my aid!

Second Reading – Hebrews 12:1-4

With so many witnesses in a great cloud on every side of us, we too, then, should throw off everything that hinders us, especially the sin that clings so easily, and keep running steadily in the race we have started. Let us not lose sight of Jesus, who leads us in our faith and brings it to perfection: for the sake of the joy which was still in the future, he endured the cross, disregarding the shamefulness of it, and from now on has taken his place at the right of God's throne. Think of the way he stood such opposition from sinners and then you will not give up for want of courage. In the fight against sin, you have not yet had to keep fighting to the point of death.

Gospel Acclamation

Alleluia, alleluia!

My sheep listen to my voice, says the Lord;
I know them, and they follow me.

Alleluia!

Gospel - Luke 12:49-53

Jesus said to his disciples: 'I have come to bring fire to the earth, and how I wish it were blazing already! There is a baptism I must still receive, and how great is my distress till it is over!

'Do you suppose that I am here to bring peace on earth? No, I tell you, but rather division. For from now on a household of five will be divided: three against two and two against three; the father divided against the son, son against father, mother against daughter, daughter against mother, mother-in-law against daughter-in-law, daughter-in-law against mother-in-law.'
